

Regarding Stryder Motorfreight Ltd.

I have been dealing with A&P transport (now Stryder Motorfreight Ltd.) for about a year now. The reason started using them was for some of my full-truck shipping requirements from Alberta to Delta, B.C.

A couple of things that I really like are that their rates are great and they are able to cross-dock my shipments at their Delta warehouse. This allows me to have my own trucks pick up the loads and transport them back to our distribution center in Parksville, B.C. on Vancouver Island. I have been in business for over 20 years, shipping and selling products all over B.C., and I have found that A&P (Stryder) has very fast service, which I recognize as I've had to deal with many others in the past. Much of my time over the past many years has been finding a company like A&P/Stryder and I'm glad have them now.
